Art Exhibition by David Hunt
August 17th 10am – 12noon (Seniors Week)
David Hunt was born in Melbourne and lived in Essendon for approximately fifty years. He lived a tram ride away from the National Gallery of Victoria which he visited about once a week. He often says it is one of the top ten art galleries in the world.
David loved the arts in Melbourne but not the Melbourne weather.
David joined the Victorian Artists Society and went to the life classes on a Saturday. He was also a member of the 'Pallet Pals' which were associated with the Glenroy Art Group.
In Townsville, at Brooklea Lifestyle Village, David has set up an art studio in the garage and continues to enjoy painting in oils, watercolour and pastel. He is very fond of seascapes, landscapes and still life.
This inevitably keeps him busy and happy. All invited, including outsiders, so bring your friends.
Venue: Brooklea Lifestyle Village, 1 Lindeman Avenue Cranbrook

Christian Flynn – Unfamiliar Theatre / Unknown Stage
The landscapes of Unfamiliar Theatre / Unknown Stage are the landscapes of not knowing. They are conversations between opposing painterly forces and capture an engagement with a subject whose form is determined in part by the consciousness by which it is observed. However, this subject looks back and is sensitive to the observer’s preconceptions and it has sway over how it is seen. These paintings are full of contradictions, nonsense, and misinterpretation, and most importantly, play. They are concrete, yet the things they attempt to stand in for are fleeting and ethereal. Unfamiliar Theatre / Unknown Stage is a tangible expression but there is no essence here.

To September 1st
Robert MacPherson: Boss Drovers
A touring exhibition of works by Robert MacPherson explores language, related systems that seek to categorise knowledge, and how changes to both can affect the gradual disappearance of specialist knowledge as generations pass. The immense ambition and scope of this project represents 20 years of thought and deliberation by the artist and reflects Australia’s diversity, history and complexity.
The QAGOMA touring exhibition tour will feature works that continue a lifelong project MacPherson calls the ‘Frog Poem’ series, an investigation that has previously focussed on juxtaposing everyday objects with the Latin names of frogs that have somehow suggested, in some way, the frog’s own characteristics.

To September 4th
Little Treasures
An exhibition of miniature paintings by local artists from the Townsville Art Society
Runs from July 18 July to 4 September in the glass case at the Perc Tucker Regional Gallery
Miniatures are smaller than 10cm x 10cm, in a range of media and are all for sale.

The Drill Hall
27 Mitchell St North Ward 4721 2634
0418 750 854 mailto:sue@thedrillhallstudio.com.au http://www.thedrillhallstudio.com.au
Open: 9am – 5pm Monday to Friday; 9am – 4pm Saturday and Sunday

The Drill Hall building was originally part of the North Ward Defence Complex, development of which began in 1885, constructed as a Volunteer Defence Training facility. It was not until the discovery of gold in the 1850s that the need for a strong military presence in Australia was seen to be necessary. Gold shipments required protection within the country and shipments at sea needed protection from privateers.

Wolf Lullaby
WOLF LULLABY is about the disturbing subject of children as murderers. It asks not only WHY it occurs, but HOW we should deal with it. The play raises the question of chance, how close we have all come to the edge, and what is it -- luck? moral instinct? -- that pulls most of us back. There is also an investigation of the idea of ‘truth’: is it more important to a small child to tell the actual events as they happened, or to please the questioner - particularly if that person is the parent

The Townsville Writers and Publishers Centre (TWPC) is an umbrella organisation that works to increase regional writing by offering workshops facilitated by national and internationally known authors, and supporting several writers groups that meet regularly to explore the craft of writing. These writer’s groups cater to writers of different genres and are supportive, friendly communities that work to develop writers of any skill level. These individual groups also offer opportunities to be involved in collaborative projects.
